LEAGUE ACTS AGAINST ITALY

LEGION DEMANDS PAYMENT OF BONUS

PATMAN INFLATION MEASURE SCORED IN SHORT RESOLUTION

DELEGATES TO VETERANS MEETING ROAR UNANIMOUS DEMAND FOR CASH BONUS

By HOWARD W. FLIEGER
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

CONVENTION HALL, ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Shouting approval, the national convention of the American Legion today renewed its demand for immediate cash payment of the soldiers' bonus.

Delegates and visiting Legionnaires who packed the convention hall roared a unanimous vote in favor of a three paragraph resolution that scored the vetoed Patman bonus inflation bill.

Loud but brief discussion preceded the action, featured by prolonged booes directed against Rep. Wright Patman of Texas, author of the bonus inflation bill vetoed by President Roosevelt at the last congressional session.

Patman, ardent supporter of inflation of the currency as a means of payment of adjusted compen-

tion certificates, finally won cheers when he concluded a five minute argument with the statement that the method of payment was secondary to the main issue. Later Patman described the demonstration against him as "a frame-up all the way."

"The opposition responsible for the demonstration can easily be identified. They were the friends of the bankers, who stand to collect $2,000,000 in interest if a sound issue is passed," he asserted.

The resolution, as introduced and passed, follows:

"1. We request immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates at face value, with cancellation of accrued interest on loans, and refund of interest paid, and do hereby reaffirm the Miami convention resolution on this subject.

"2. We request the immediate favorable action of the congress, and the approval of the president of the United States, upon this clear cut and single issue without having it complicated or confused by other issues of government finance, or theories of currency with which the legion does not intend to become involved.

Approve Belgrano's Efforts

"3. We herfeby ratify and approve the efforts of National Commander Belgrano, and the national legislative committee on behalf of the Legion's bill at the last session of congress.

LEGISLATURE FAILS OVERRIDE PENSIONS AND LIQUOR REPORTS

EFFORTS RECOMMIT FAVORABLY REPORTED MEASURES PROVE FAILURE

AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The legislature today refused to override committee recommendations on old-age pensions and liquor legislation to bar open saloons.

The senate defeated, 17 to 9 with two pairs, an effort of wet leaders to recommit a bill by Senator Clint Small of Amarillo strictly defining an open saloon and prohibiting sale of the drink.

After the test, wet leaders obtained adjournment until tomorrow, preventing immediate floor action.

The house resumed consideration of a chain store tax bill killing an amendment to exempt appliance merchandising by public utilities. An amendment to include wholesale chain stores was adopted and argument started on one to exclude branch stores of oil well supply concerns.

Recommendations of the house state affairs committee including a tax provision on an old-age pension bill withstood a spirited attack.

A motion by Rep. Rawlings Colquitt of Dallas to re-refer the bill to the revenue and taxation committee was defeated 56 to 76, and another to recommit to the state affairs committee with instructions to remove the tax section lost, 61 to 69.

Colquitt criticized the commit-

SEIZED UNTAXED CIGARETTES AND SENTENCED TO THREE DAYS IN JAIL

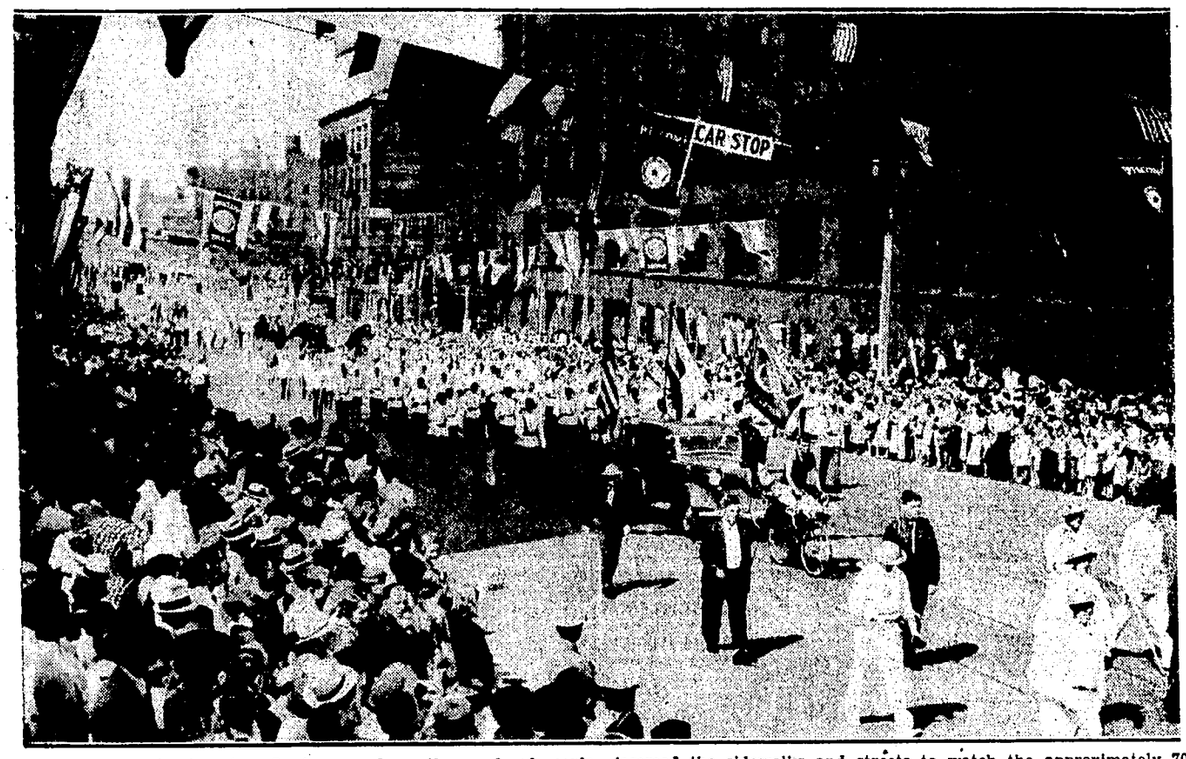

DALLAS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Sam Kimberlin, chief of the cigarette tax division of the state comptroller's office, was adjudged in contempt of court today for alleged interfering with transportation and sale of non-tax paid cigarettes in interstate commerce.

District Judge Sarah T. Hughes on July 19 had entered an order restraining Comptroller George Sheppard and his agents from interfering with the interstate commerce cigarette business of the Interstate Tobacco company, which is headed by Julius Klugsberg of Dallas.

Klugsberg applied for a contempt order against Kimberlin after he and his aids allegedly seized a shipment of cigarettes in

GREAT BRITAIN IS BRINGING DEFENSE MEASURE TO PEOPLE

THOUSANDS ARE TRAINED; INSTRUCT PARENTS IN GAS ATTACK PROTECTION

By Q. H. ANDERSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Great Britain brought its defensive measures nearer home today, to teach London residents how to act in the event war should bring bombers over the city.

Seven thousand men and women already were trained for emergency duty. Plans were pushed forward for instructing fathers and mothers in the east end how to protect their families from the effects of gas attacks.

The program followed the elaborate air raid rehearsals in mediterranean possessions, with the Italo-Ethiopian crisis apparently close to the breaking point.

Tonybee Hall, in the crowded commercial road area near the London docks, will be converted into a temporary first aid station saturday when members of

Billings Takes Witness Stand For Tom Mooney

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Warren K. Billings, who is serving a life prison term, was called as a witness at Thomas J. Mooney's habeas corpus hearing today.

Billings, who was convicted along with Mooney for the bombing of the 1916 Preparedness Day parade here, took the stand after being silenced once when he attempted to object to questions asked a previous witness.

He was told then by supreme court referee A. E. Shaw that his sole rights at this hearing "are those of a witness. You are not a co-defendant or petitioner."

Second Game Of Cubs and Cards Was Postponed

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Rain today forced a postponement of the second game of the Cordinal-Cub series to definitely determine if the world champion St. Louis club can halt the rampaging and pennant bound men of Grimm.

A double-header will be played tomorrow, the first game beginning at 12:45 p. m. (C. S. T.)

Hoping against hope that the rain, which began early this morning, might slacken, the Cardinal management held up a definite postponement announcement until nearly 11 a. m. (C. S. T.).

THREE EDUCATORS CAUSTIC IN COMMENTS ON COTTON TENANTS; SAYS LANDLORD GETS BENEFITS

ATLANTA, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The cotton tenancy system is called "our greatest social humiliation" in a publication just issued by three educators after two year's intensive study in the South.

The trio declared that the government under the agricultural adjustment program "has assumed many of the risks of the landowners and thrown them on the tenant."

The authors of the report are Dr. W. W. Alexander, chairman of the commission on inter-racial relations; Edwin R. Embree, president of the Rosenwald fund, and Charles S. Johnson of Fisk university. Dr. Alexander is an assistant to Under-Secretary of Agriculture Tugwell.

Declaring that the question is becoming more and more a white problem, they reported that more than 60 of every 100 cotton farms are operated by tennants.

The number of tenant families in the cotton belt was placed at 1,790,783, of which 1,091,944 are white and 698,839 negroes.

"It is but the blunt truth," the report said, "to say that under the present system the landowner is more and more protected from risk by government activity while the tenant is left open to risk on every side. Only after he loses first what property he may possess and then his tenure, does the tenant come to the form of risk insurance designed for him—relief.

"One obvious reason for the wholesale neglect of the tenant lies in the fact that the agricultural adjustment administration organized this program under the direction of the planters themselves."

Uvalde Official Doubted Identity Texas Governor

UVALDE, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Governor James V. Allred, after a recent visit in John Garner's home, strolled over to the county courthouse to become acquainted with county officials.

He walked into a county official's office.

"My name is Jimmy Allred," the governor said crisply.

Surprised, the official retorted:

"Well, mine's Mussolini."

Allred, however, finally argued the official, whose name was not divulged, into believing he was Texas' governor.

OFFICIAL ITALIAN SOURCES SOFTPEDAL ON LEAGUE ACTION

INDICATED ITALY WILL LISTEN TO LEAGUE BUT WILL NOT HEED WARNINGS

By A. E. STUNTZ
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

ROME, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Official Italian sources said today it was "premature" to express Italy's reaction to the reported proposal by the council of the League of Nations that Italy and Ethiopia keep the peace until Dec. 4.

They said Italy now was awaiting a report from the council. Until this report arrives, they said, Italy was not expressing an opinion.

These sources said they were not sure that Article XV is the one which the League will envisage and added that they failed to see how the league could base the suggestion concerning a three months wait on Article XV of the covenant.

Italian newspapers were unanimous in declaring that Italy

COOLER WEATHER IN PROSPECT FOR TEXAS FOLLOWING RAINS

WINDS TO SHIFT TO NORTH LATE THURSDAY; RAIN FALLS AT MANY POINTS

(By The Associated Press.)

Cooler weather was in prospect for Texas today after soaking rains thoroughly drenched the eastern half of the state.

Weather bureau observers said the wind would shift to the north late today and bring down a cool wave which would extend into South Texas tomorrow.

Unsettled weather which brought rain to a vast area in the last two days still prevailed and downpours continued at Corpus Christi, Brownsville, Houston and other points.

In the last 24 hours Corpus Christi had 4.80 inches of rain, Houston 2.44, Galveston 1.58, Port Arthur 2.64, Dallas 2.09, Austin .70, San Antonio .30, Brownsville .96, Corsicana 1.23, Sherman .82 and, in western Grayson county, 1.

In the last 48 hours Houston had a total of 4.8 inches.

No rain was reported at Del Rio, El Paso, Abilene or Amarillo.

The temperature dropped to 55 at Pampa this morning and there was occasional drizzling rain. The sky was overcast. At Amarillo, a light mist dampened the city. The mercury read 52 and colder weather was forecast tonight.

Fort Worth rainfall in the last 24 hours was .37 of an inch, Paris 2.17 and Beaumont 2.63. After 1.01 inches yesterday, it was still raining at Tyler. For the third successive day, it was raining at Galveston.

NOTICE SERVED UPON ITALY AND ETHIOPIA WAR IS POSTPONED

LEAGUE COUNCIL GAVE NOTICE HOSTILITIES MUST NOT COME BEFORE DEC. 4

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
Associated Press Foreign Staff

GENEVA, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The League of Nations council today gave notice to Italy and Ethiopia that they cannot start war until Dec. 4 without violating the league covenant.

If either one starts aggressive hostilities before then, that nation will be deemed to have committed an act of war against all members of the League of Nations—thereby automatically calling for punishment by the other nations.

This notice was implied by a unanimous vote—with the Italian delegates conspicuously absent—to draft a report of recommendations for the settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict under Article XV of the covenant and a decision that this article was in operation as from Sept. 4.

This means three months must elapse from that date before hostilities can be undertaken without disregard of the covenant.

(Article XV of the covenant provides the council shall endeavor to settle disputes and, if unsuccessful, make a report. Article XVI warns that if a League member resorts to war in disregard of Article XII, XIII, or XV, it has committed an act of war against all members. Article XII is a promise by all League members they will not resort to war at least until three months after an award by arbitrators.)

(The arbitrators in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute made their award on Sept. 4, with a finding that neither Italy nor Ethiopia was responsible for a border skirmish last December at Walwal.)

The action was taken in tense excitement and in the space of 70 minutes.

Corridors Crowded.

Previous to the momentous session, the corridors of the League building were a milling mob of statesmen and observers. Foreign ministers elbowed prime ministers in the throng.

They viewed, with fast moving ripples of comment, the act of the Italian delegation which stalked out of the building after a toast at the bar before the council's public session began.

When the final vote was over, one delegate inadvertently banged out the climax by stumbling into a large metal wastebasket at the head of the lobby stairs.

The metal container of castoff communiques bounced noisily down the steps in twelve clashes like the strokes of a bell.

Looming up out of the council's rapid but solemn discussion was the unqualified rallying by France to the application of the

INDUSTRY NOT GIVING MORE JOBS AS BUSINESS PICKS UP IS CHARGE RELIEF OFFICIAL

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Harry L. Hopkins' "right hand man" expressed the opinion today that unless industry "shares increased business with workers," the unemployment problem will not be solved by a business pick-up.

The relief administrator's first assistant, Aubrey Williams, declared that there has been a gain in business, but that speaking generally it has put comparatively few people to work.

Asked in an interview to explain this seeming paradox, Williams attributed it primarily to increased efficiency which permits employers to produce more goods than before with fewer men.

"Unless industry is willing to adopt deliberately a policy of sharing increased business with workers," he said, "there is not much hope of the workers getting anything out of a business pick-up."

Williams said there had been a drop in the number of people on relief, but he attributed this largely to a "hard-boiled" policy under which the rolls were "combed" of ineligibles.

Latest figures show total persons on all forms of relief dropped from a peak of 20,655,512 or 17 per cent of the total population of the United States, to 16,128,163 in July, or 13 per cent of population. The decline has been gradual since March, which showed a little gain over February.

CREAGER PREDICTS ROOSEVELT DEFEAT EASILY NEXT YEAR

INDICATES TEXAS LIKELY TO REPEAT 1928 AND BOLT DEMOCRATIC RANKS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—R. B. Creager, Texas republican national committeeman, predicted today that "broken campaign promises" would defeat President Roosevelt next year and elect a Republican.

Creager, a power in republican party affairs for years, said any man the republicans chose would be elected "inevitably" unless the party made a serious blunder in campaign acvtivities.

"President Roosevelt declared he agreed with and would stand pat on the platform declarations of his party convention in Chicago," Creager said. "Now that platform called for a minimum 25 per cent reduction in government expenses. Instead of that, they have them multiplied four fold.

"He talked about a balanced

ARTICLES OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS COVENANT THAT ARE EXPECTED STOP WAR

(By The Associated Press.)

The League of Nations council today agreed to proceed under Article XV of the covenant in an effort to prevent war between Italy and Ethiopia.

Article XV calls for council recommendations. Use of this article calls for direct action for, should Article XV be disregarded by a member nation, Article XVI—describing such disregard as an act of war—is automatically invoked.

Salient texts are:

Article XV, paragraph 4

"If the dispute is not thus settled (by council intervention, as attempted), the council either unanimously or by a majority vote shall make and publish a report containing a statement of the facts of the dispute and the recommendations which are deemed just and proper in regard thereto."

Article XVI, paragraph 1

"Should any member of the league resort to war in disregard of its covenants under Articles XII, XIII, or XV, it shall ipso facto be deemed to have committed an act of war against all other members of the league, which hereby undertake immediately to subject it to the severance of all trade or financial relations, the prohibition of all intercourse between their nationals and the nationals of the covenant-breaking state, and the prevention of all financial, commercial or personal intercourse between the nationals of the covenant-breaking state and the nationals of any other state, whether a member of the league or not."

Article XV, paragraph 2

"It shall be the duty of the council in such case to recommend to the several governments concerned what effective military, naval or air force the members of the league shall severally contribute to the armed forces to be used to protect the covenants of the league."

IMMENSE THRONG MEN, WOMEN KNEEL IN DARKNESS TO LISTEN TO MESSAGE CATHOLIC CHURCH

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Nearly 150,000 men and women knelt silently in the darkness of Cleveland stadium early today and listened to the message of the Catholic church.

From the top tier of the Stadium far out on the field a solid, shadowy assemblage watched quietly as Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicoganni, Apostolic delegate to the United States, celebrated a midnight pontifical low mass.

As a spectacle of reverence it was the high point of the seventh national Eucharaistic congress, now nearing its conclusion.

Long before last midnight, the stadium was crowded to its normal capacity—80,000 persons. At 11 p. m. came the holy hour. The aisles were filling up and the crowd was pushing out on the field.

During the holy hour, of which Bishop Joseph E. Ritter of Indianapolis was celebrant, it was necessary to close the gates. Stadium Commissioner Walter Davis estimated the attendance at approximately 150,000.

"We had to turn 25,000 away," he said.

There was a meditation period, conducted by Bishop Robert E. Lucey of Amarillo, Texas. Then came the benediction of the holy sacrament. As time for the mass came, the lights of the stadium faded out. Only a single light burned, that above the altar,

PLANTING OF MORE ALFALFA ADVOCATED BY COUNTY AGENT

Alfalfa should be more of a popular feed crop in Navarro county according to C. C. Morris, county agricultural agent, who pointed out that a large portion of the valley lands are adapted to the crop.

The county agent reported that the fall of the year is the best time to seed the lands. Land that has been in cotton production needs little preparation for fall seeding but where other crops have been grown and the land is foul, it should be plowed thoroughly, then rolled or harrowed sufficiently to powder the earth and pack seed.

Fall rains have been ideal for alfalfa to date according to Mr. Morris, and the best time for seeding is between Oct. 1 and 10 although it may be planted as late as Oct. 10. 20. From 12 to 15 pounds of high germinating seed per acre is sufficient. The county agent pointed out that seeding in the fall early enough to withstand the winter freees would not only allow a greater yield for the following year but would also keep the winter and spring weeds out of the fields.

He attributed the failure of much land to produce the crop to the fact that it was seeded in the late spring and weeds choked out the crop before it was well established.

Several demonstration fields planted in the fall of 1934 were reported to have produced 100 bales to the acre up to this time, supplying an ample feed crop, in addition to the rebuilding of the soil.

CONSTITUTION IS DEFENDED BY WACO MAN AT CCC CAMP

MEXIA, Sept. 26.—(Spl.)—Dr. Arthur Stout of Waco discussed the United States constitution in one of a series of educational addresses at the Coolidge camp Tuesday evening. Visitors including several men and their wives from Coolidge and Mexia, enjoyed a supper with the "tree army" boys in their mess hall, and then heard the Waco man in his address.

Dr. Stout told of the formation of the document on which the republican - democratic form of government is based, and pointed to a clause permitting amendments as one of the strongest features of the constitution. He deplored the "Tory" attitude which keeps kings in power, sets up dictators in Italy and Germany, and asks to prevent changes in the constitution of this country to afford a government for the whole people.

"The constitution was made for us; we were not made for the constitution," the Waco public official said. He told the youths in the camp to look upon themselves as the government, for they are as much a part of it as any other citizen. He praised present day trends away from control of the government by organized capital, toward the ideals of the forefathers who wrote the constitution for all the people. New deal measures of social security were praised in the forceful address.

Condaffer said, that he had disposed of the bodies, but maintained for a time that his uncle was poisoned by his aunt, who then ended her own life.

"I was awaiting hearing on an application for probation on conviction of the theft of an automobile," Condaffer quoted Drake as saying. "I felt I had little hope of escaping a prison term and that the disgrace would cause the death of my aunt."

The youth, Condaffer said, declared he determined to kill the elderly woman and went to a drug store where he purchased a poison and several other chemicals to avoid suspicion.

The poison was slipped into the coffee as it brewed in the kitchen.

Earlier, the youth had told a fantastic, involved story about the double killing, in which he posed as the attempted destroyer of the bodies to prevent his elders appearing in a bad light before the community.

The crowd broke all previous attendance records for the stadium. Some of the entrance gates were opened for the first time since 1932 when 80,184 persons gathered there for a baseball game.

Late today crowds will stream into the stadium again to hear the benediction of Pope Pius XI in a special broadcast from Castel Gondolfo, his summer residence.

BROWN BOMBER IS EASY VICTOR FOUR ROUND SPECTACLE

FORMER CHAMPION LANDED TWO TELLING BLOWS; LOUIS' SCORE 500

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(AP)—It looks like a non-stop flight to the top of the pugilistic heap for the Brown Bomber.

There remained today not the slightest doubt of the two-fisted greatness of Joe Louis, least of all in the minds of upward of 90,000 onlookers who saw the 21-year-old Detroit negro on his bridal evening mow down the once magnificent Max Baer with a punching blast as deadly as machine gun fire.

Mercilessly, methodically, never wasting a blow and rarely slackening a punching pace that has had few equals in heavyweight history, Louis knocked out the former champion in the fourth round of a 15-round match that revived all the glamour of the prize ring in a near million dollar spectacle at the Yankee stadium.

Baer not only was completely outclassed but made the fatal mistake of trying to box Louis. He was knocked down three times, twice in the third round, where the bell saved him as he sat blinking on the floor. He was counted out while swaying on one knee near the end of the fourth round.

Rivalled Rickard-Dempsey

It was the greatest heavyweight show but also one of the most one-sided, top-flight heavyweight matches since the famous Tex Rickard died and the great Jack Dempsey retired.

In 11 minutes and 50 seconds the youthful negro punched Baer into a bloody, senseless wreck; a battered figure still trying to muster the pretense of his once marvelous powers of resistance, fading out of the picture in defeat with magnificent gesture of futility.

It seemed that Louis must have hit Baer nearly 500 times with as vicious a two-handed onslaught as any first-class heavyweight has absorbed since Dempsey slaughtered Jess Willard at Toledo in 1919 or hammered down Luis Angel Firpo at the Polo Grounds in 1923.

It was, in the words of a late critic of the fight business, "modified murder," in every sense of the word; a "killing" so devastating and complete as to leave no a single question for dispute.

On his honeymoon today, upward of $200,000 richer, and taking it all with the same coolness that characterizes his amazing ring workmanship, Joe Louis seemingly has no worries about a pugilistic future that contemporary word artists are painting in the gaudiest possible hues.

Twenty-fifth Victory

The Brown Bomber's twenty-fifth consecutive victory and his 21st knockout since he turned professional scarcely 14 months ago capped the climax of the most spectacular march since Dempsey waded through all opposition to the world championship.

The title held by the ex-steevedore, James J. Braddock, is Louis' goal, but it probably will be a year before he gets the chance to claim it for his race for the first time since Jack Johnson ruled the fistic heights.

A match with Max Schmeling, the German who once wore the heavyweight crown, is the next major goal for the negro. Promoter Mike Jacobs, heir to Rickard's mantle, said he plans to match Louis and Schmeling for a 15-round fight at either of New York's big ball parks next June, the winner to box Braddock for the title in September.

"Louis told me he wants to fight as often as possible," said Jacobs, who already has the negro under contract for two more years with an option on his fighting services until 1940.

Wants Plenty Fights

"He says that getting married now also means he will have to keep busy but it's going to be tough finding opponents."

For those who saw Louis crush Baer, there isn't the slightest doubt that the Chocolate Soldier can and will whip Schmeling and then "take" the gallant Braddock.

Baer was to provide the big test, demonstrate whether Louis could "take it" and make the going tougher for Louis than all the other fighters he has met combined.

Max may have had fury in his heart, but there was no dynamite in his fists. Instead of setting a whirlwind pace, he came out cautiously. Instead of slugging, he tried to box as masterful a young boxer as the ring has developed in a generation.

He absorbed, as he said he would, all that Louis could throw at him, but even concrete can resist T. N. T. only for a brief time.

After taking a terrific lacing for two rounds, Baer crumpled under the negro's two-fisted fire and sagged slowly to the floor for the first time midway in the third round. The blood through which he had grinned insolently, disdainfully in earlier melees, dripped from his face, now a grotesque mask.

Showman to Finale

As he squatted, the curly-haired Californian managed another smile, and with the instinct of the great showman that he has always been, waved to the crowd that was on its feet, yelling for the "kill."

It was a characteristic Baer gesture, a magnificent touch from a warrior who knew the end was coming. Eyes bleary, Baer staggered to his feet at the count of nine.

He met another withering blast, backed into the ropes, then swayed and toppled again. He was saved this time by the bell, at the count of four.

Frantically Jack Dempsey and other handlers told the battered former champion to "keep punching," but the old fire was gone. Max knew it and so did everyone else.

Louis, still in no great hurry, methodicaly stalked his man, shifting his crushing left hooks to the body, blows that wiped the last vestiges of a grin from Baer's bruised, bleeding face.

Once Max flicked a back-handed blow to the Bomber's face. The referee admonished him but it was unimportant.

Soon Louis swept in again, smashing two lefts to the head, then a right that put Baer down for the last time. Max' eyes blinked. He was on one knee, swaying a bit. He didn't hear the count and he didn't seem to care.

Baer Completely "Out"

He was still swaying when Referee Arthur Donovan swung his arm down for the tenth time. Baer was "out" for the first time in his career, in every sense of the word.

There was little or no doubt about the outcome from the first round, when Louis drew first blood with sharp left hooks to the nose and mouth, then backed Baer into a neutral corner and gave him a two-handed lashing that had the crowd wild.

All Baer did was to demonstrate he could still "take it" and grin. He took plenty, he kept grinning and when the bell rang he squared his shoulders, patted Louis patronizingly on the back and stalked to his corner.

Only twice did the former champion flash the sort of punching fury that battered down Schmeling and Primo Carnera. Midway in the first round, after being stung by the bomber's sharpshooting, Max let fly with both hands. He landed hard to the head but yielded quickly to the negro's counter blast.

In the closing moments of the second round Baer let loose his most spectacular attack. Rusing Louis to the ropes, Max flailed away lustily. He jolted Joe with another loopin gright.

The bell rang but Baer didn't hear it. He punched furiously, trying desperately to land a decisive blow. He did deliver his hardest wallops before the referee could stop the overtime slugfest, but Louis trotted to his corner unhurt.

Max Ended Ring Career

All told, Baer didn't land a half dozen solid blows. His announcement afterward that he is through with the ring came as no shock to those who witnessed the failure of his attempted comeback.

For supreme nonchalance, however, Baer's career contains nothing to equal the latest achievement of Louis.

The negro not only conceded all of Baer's requests for special gloves, more hand bandages and tape, but capped the climax by marrying his Chicago sweetheart, Marva Trotter, scarcely two hours before going to the stadium to face the greatest crowd that has ever seen a sports event in New York.

Receipts fell below expectations of another million-dollar gate, after a lapse of eight years, but the gross total of $932,944, collected from 84,831 cash customers, marked a remarkable fistic comeback as well as a new "high" for any prize

Hundred and Fifty Clowns in Circus This Year

Four of the Hundred and Fifty Producers of Mirth and Merriment with The Greatest Show on Earth

One hundred and fifty clowns doing stunts and cutting capers at the same time will make children scream with uncontrollable mirth and staid parents almost burst their sides with suppressed laughter when the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Combined Circus comes to Corsicana Wednesday, Oct. 2.

No such colossal aggregation of funmakers has ever before been presented by any amusement organization. The foremost clowns from all countries have been assembled for this great internation pantomimic congress.

In clown alley, which is that section of the dressing rooms of the big show where the hundred and fifty monkeyshine monarchs make up and don their motley, there are forty producers. Yes, indeed, real producers for it takes a bit of doing to perfect those hundreds of rapid fire skits the clowns present in The Greatest Show on Earth, with its seven rings and stages and huge hippodrome track.

Many of the producers engage their own little troupes of funsters. Naturally, they are the big shots of their profession, and they are paid accordingly. Several of these producing clowns have introduced splendid ideas into the show's colossal opening spectacle, The Durbar of Delhi. With its 1600 people, 800 men and women arenic champions, 700 horses, 50 elephants, 1009 menagerie animals and a multitude of amazing new attractions never before seen on this continent, the world's largest circus this year offers the most imposing array of features ever witnessed.

Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p. m., the doors opening one hour earlier.

DEATH HAS SHIFTED INTO HIGH GEAR FOR TEXAS AUTOMOBILISTS

NAVARRO COUNTY ONE OF BRIGHT SPOTS IN APPALLING TOTAL ACCIDENTS

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

DALLAS, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Death has shifted into high gear on Texas' highways and avenues, speeding to new tolls of destruction and maiming.

No definite number of automobile fatalities since Jan. 1 is available, but a survey of central points show an appalling total. At the top of the list is Dallas county. Eighty-four victims of automobile tragedies have been buried since the first of the year.

Safety campaigns are many. Stringent new laws have been passed and schools for drivers are conducted.

Drunken driving is the big target of state prosecutors, charges of murder in instances where persons are killed by drinking drivers have supplanted accusations of negligent homicide.

Civic bodies are behind the police in every city. Dallas originated the "T-Men"—a group of private citizens who secretly report traffic violations as they see them from the driver's seat. Cards of warning are sent by police to the traffic violators spotted by the "T-Men" and continued violations result in arrest. Other cities have followed suit.

Fort Worth has counted 67 dead from traffic tragedies—two more than the total for the entire year of 1934.

Forty-Six in Bexar County.

Forty-six deaths have been recorded in San Antonio and Bexar county. There were 38 at this time last year but the 1934 total eventually swelled to 63. Police are sponsoring a "Save a Child" campaign.

Definite figures for Harris county were not available, 34 had been killed in Houston proper. Sixty-nine died from highway mishaps in 1934. A police drive on reckless driving has slightly reduced fatalities.

Unofficial estimates place the 1935 death toll at 20 in Galveston county, as compared to the total of 12 in 1934.

Tyler and Austin.

At Tyler, 18 have been killed since Jan. 1 and Austin has recorded 14 fatalities from auto accidents. There have been 599 reported accidents in which 230 persons were injured at the state capital. Police are rigidly enforcing traffic rules. Seven county deaths have raised the Travis county total to 21

Ten persons have died in Wichita county as compared to only four during the same time last year.

Eight have been killed at Amarillo. Only seven perished during the entire year of 1934.

Six have been killed in Grayson county, Sherman reported, and five have died at San Angelo.

Encouraging were reports from Lubbock, Paris and Corsicana. Five have succumbed at Lubbock in comparison to six last year; two at Paris and only two at Corsicana, where last year 12 had been killed at this time. A total of 17 deaths was reported for the 1934 total.

A complete state report was unavailable. One rural crash took five lives. There have been several accidents in which four persons perished.

LEAGUE

League covenant in "its letter and spirit."

France Lends Support.

This support, given by Premier Laval of France in a brief speech supporting Great Britain, was interpreted by many observers as indicating that France has received satisfactory assurances from Great Britain that in any future European conflict Great Britain will insist on the same scrupulous application of the covenant as she is calling for in the dispute between Italy and Ethiopia.

Some said they saw in Laval's speech a particular indication that Great Britain will stand by France in the event of any complications growing out of any attempt to destroy the independence of Austria.

The council probably will meet again tomorrow to discuss Emperor Haile Selassie's request that a commission of neutral observers be sent to the Ethiopian frontiers to follow the situation and to forestall any military clashes.

Sanctions Indicated.

Some observers said they saw in the speeches of both Anthony Eden of Great Britain and Maxim Litvinoff of Russia an indication that conversations on the "sanctions" which might be employed against Italy will be vigorously pursued.

Eden said in his speech that while the council's report was being drafted, "the governments will have an opportunity to consider whether, and if so how, anything further can be done to safeguard peace."

Litvinoff was deemed to have made an even clearer allusion to sanctions when he said no doubt could be entertained the response his government would give to "any proposals which the council may make for the safeguarding of the peace of Africa as well as other continents and for maintaining the League covenant."

In connection with this angle, League officials stated that the council has the power to put into its recommendations, if it wishes, suggestions for economic and financial sanctions and other general measures of restraint against a nation which launches war after rejecting the recommendations.

Would Be Act of War.

The president of the council, Enrique Ruiz Guinazu of Argentina, presented the recommendation for procedure under Article XV to "make and publish" a report on the case and recommendations — violations of which, if adopted unanimously, would be considered an act of war against all League members, under Article XVI, leading to sanctions.

The Italians caused a brief whirl of excitement, just before the council's public meeting was opened, by their walkout.

As Anthony Eden of Great Britain, Premier Laval of France, Maxim Litvinoff of Russia, and others went to the council chambers to cast their unanimous vote, the Italians met in a compact body.

Included in their number were members of the delegation and other prominent fascists. They strolled up to the bar in the League's glass-roofed lobby, ordered drinks, stood stiffly in a circle, and raised their glasses high in a toast.

Marched Out of Building

Then, after downing the drinks, they ostentatiously marched down the steps and out from the building.

As on the occasion of the recent dramatic walkout by Baron Pompeo Aloisi, their chief delegate, from a council meeting, the other delegates and spectators were left in the dark as to the meaning of this new gesture.

It was not immediately indicated whether this meant the delegation's final departure or was merely a repetition of the previous gesture by Aloisi.

A spokesman for the Italian delegation, however, later explained that the second version was correct—namely, that "Italy will not sit at the same table with Ethiopia." This time, moreover, the act was a little stronger, since the Italians had walked all the way out of the building.

Italian Action Was Without Significance

ROME, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The walkout of the Italian delegation at Geneva before the League of Nations council unanimously adopted a resolution to proceed under Article 15 of the covenant in the Italo-Ethiopian deliberations, was declared today by a government spokesman to be "without significance."

He added that the covenant requires that any controversy between members shall be considered by the council in the absence of the involved parties. The Italian delegation, he said, may be called in later.

(The council decision authorized it to "make and publish" a report on the Italo-Ethiopian conflict and make recommendations. Violation of these recommendations if adopted unanimously, would be considered an act of war against all League members, under Article 16, leading to sanctions).

Italy cancelled today the sailing of some 10,000 troops, drawing up to embark for Libya to guard the frontier bordering on Egypt.

With an expressed sense of relief that tension with Great Britain had passed, Italian government officials awaited League of Nations developments.

Government sources insisted, however, that clarification of the relations between Britain and Italy in no way affected Italy's East African program.

PARIS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—French officials said today that sanctions against Italy could not be avoided if Premier Mussolini's forces ever attacked Ethiopia.

These officials predicted that the League of Nations council would make the aggressor nation in the impending conflict indefinitely liable to sanctions.

BUDAPEST, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Approximately 50 demonstrators, shouting "Down with Mussolini and Italy!" stoned the Italian legation, smashing windows, today. There were no arrests and local newspapers were not permitted to mention the incident.

During the night the girl's condition grew worse and in the morning, neighbors sought to prevail upon Mrs. Kerston to consent to an operation as the only means of saving her child's life. budget, comparing the country to an American family which has to watch its expenses! he hasn't done that. He pledged the government to a sound money policy; now we are off the gold standard."

Reaction throughout the country to new deal policies, Creager said, will assure republican successes at the polls next year. He said he believed republicans would join successfully with constitutional and states' rights democrats in many states to defeat Roosevelt.

His own state, Virginia, North Carolina and Florida he said were likely fields for such a union.

Creager recalled that Texas bounced into the republican column in 1928 and added that on three other occasions republicans almost had attained victory either in state or national races. A repetition of the 1928 swing "is entirely possible," he said.

Creager declined to discuss personalities either in Texas or national politics. He said he felt there was no need to commit himself "this early in the game" on his personal choice for president and added he was advising his friends both in Texas and other states to keep an open mind."

TRAVELLER'S MEMORY OF SCENES IN LIFE OF THE AGED APOSTLE *

Italian Islands and Turkish Ruins Carry Mementoes of John, the Disciple Whom Jesus Loved----A Study of a Love----Obsessed Character.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Fancy plays strange tricks with a traveller's imagination. Thus, though I am familiar with all the background scenes of the life of the Apostle John, I instinctively picture him, at every mention of his name, not as a prosperous fisherman on the Lake of Galilee; not as an "inquirer" at the revival meetings of John the Baptist on the banks of the Jordan river; not as a friend reclining on Jesus' bosom; not even as a noble figure at the Crucifixion itself; but rather as a lonely old man on the Island of Patmos, where Italy now holds sway over the small Greek population. To me he is John the aged, who outlived all his comrades in the discipleship, and, after undergoing fierce persecutions, was the only member of the band, says tradition, who died a natural death, at the age of about a hundred years.

Patmos is a little island with a lovely harbor, off the coast of Asia Minor, which is now Turkey. It consists of two hills and a valley. On one of the former is an ancient Greek monastery. The monks showed me a rocky cave, now a chapel, which they said had been the abode of John during his exile under Nero or Diocletion. But my imagination loves to picture him, his white beard flowing in the breezes of the Mediterranean, seated on a rocky promontory, gazing wistfully across the sea toward the Ephesus which he loved, where his dear children, the Christians, were undergoing fiery trials.

The Tomb In Ephesus.

Ephesus, now one of the most interesting ruins that have survived the centuries, was the home of John's activities in later life. Thither he probably brought Mary, the mother of Jesus, who had been committed to his care by the dying Savior on the cross. There is a peculiar thrill awaiting the traveller in Ephesus as he walks the excavated streets of the ancient city, reminding himself that "These very stones were trodden by the living feet of John and Mary and Paul and Luke and Timothy and the great company of saints who made up the mighty Ephesian church."

Travellers may see the great "Double Church" of Ephesus, where the early church councils were held. If they are informed, they will examine also the ruins of the Church of St. John, nearer the modern railway station; for in a crypt beneath the church an international achaeological expedition, financed from America, has lately discovered the tomb of St. John. Some day, doubtless, a great fane will be erected on this sacred site, such as cover the tombs of St. Peter and St. Paul in Rome.

One Young Man's "Success"

A long, long way had Zebedee's son come from the nets of Galilee to the overseership of the church in Ephesus and to the place of pre-eminence in Christendom. Today, John who, had he been more prudent and self-interested, might have lived and died an obscure fisherman, sits in daily counsel upon highest themes with rare spirits all around the world. For John's Gospel, which mirrors the very genius of Jesus, is the favorite book of spiritually-minded Christians everywhere. He wrote also the Book of Revelations, and the three Epistles, of which the brief and personal third is the basis for today's lesson.

John had good blood in his veins. Hs mother, Salome, was a sister of the Virgin Mary, so that he was the cousin of Jesus. His father, Zebedee, was a prosperous fisherman. His brother, James, was the first of the apostles to be martyred. The family had influential relations in Jerusalem.

Probably, from his sensitive-spirited mother, John derived that capacity for spiritual perception which has given him his unique place in history as "the disciple whom Jesus loved." In the upper room, he leaned on the breast of Jesus; throughout a long life thereafter he revealed the Heart that beat beneath that bosom to all the ages to follow.

A Hallmark Of Greatness.

One sure mark of greatness in a man is his capacity for spiritual perception. This applies in all realms—business, politics and the arts. The seeing soul is the true success. John stands out from the other disciples because he best understood the Master, and was most beloved by Him. This quality of spiritual imagination is what makes great writers and readers, speakers and hearers. It is the gift of seeing what lies beneath the surface. It is the faculty that glorifies love and that turns work into art, a livelihood into a vocation.

Finer natures, such as John's, are vulgarly supposed to be weak. In truth, they are the real stuff of which heroes are made. When others fled, it was John who went into the judgment hall with the prisoner, Jesus, and who stood by the cross and ran to the open tomb. He became the militant head of the victorious church in Ephesus, fronting the persecutions of the infamous Roman emperors. He turned his exile to Patmos into a scene of glory and revelation. Early in his discipleship he was called by the Master a "son of thunder." And the later record is that when men "saw the boldness of Peter and John...they took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus." No weakling, but a moral giant, was this gentle-hearted apostle of love. For there is no quality in nature so brave, so resourceful, so victorious as love.

A Saint And A Sinner.

In the role of courageous church leader the aged apostle is revealed by this brief personal letter to Gaius. We know nothing about Gaius, except what this letter tells. And that is honor enough to make his name live through the ages. He may have been any one of the three Gaiuses mentioned in the New Testament —Gaius of Macedonia, Gaius of Corinth or Gaius of Derbe, or another person altogether. It matters not. He was a fine figure of a gentleman, a saint and a church officer.

Religion can do with fewer self-important officials if it can only have more Gaiuses—sane, upright, hospitable and saintly—in the local congregations. A Canadian judge said recently, "What this city of Galt most needs is another man like Dr. King walking up and down its streets." The allusion was to a Dr. King who had been a pastor in Galt more than twenty years before. Some men's integrity and way of life speak more loudly than many a sermon. Such was Gaius, the friend of St. John.

Two other characters share with Gaius the distinction of being mentioned by name in our Lesson Epistle—one of these for an opposite reason. In the church of which Gaius was a member there was what is nowadays known as "a church boss," a certain Diotrephes, "who loveth to have the pre-eminence." Almost every modern church knows at least one such; and he is usually the heaviest cross the pastor has to bear. He is self-conscious, self-important, self-assertive. He always seeks recognition and power. He rebels against authority, as Diotrephes rebelled against John.

But a reckoning lay ahead. John planned to visit the church; and this arrogant fellow would find him to be not only the gentle John, the lover of souls, but also the "son of thunder," administrator of authority in the Church of Christ.

"One who goes before . . . to prepare the way for another"

THAT'S the dictionary's description of a pioneer . . . "one who goes before to prepare the way for another." . . . What "way" was prepared? For whom? By whom? When? How? Words, in answer to these questions, can never picture the pioneering drama of transmission line service in Texas.

The way was prepared for the people to have low-cost, 24-hour electric service by the Texas Power & Light Company, in 1912, by means of transmission line electric service. That was what this Company set out to do when it was organized. That is what it has worked toward during the past 22 years. That is still its first objective today.

In 1912, Texas communities were in dire need of dependable, low-cost electric power. Hundreds of towns had no electric service. Isolated power plants could not supply this need economically.

The only answer was transmission line service. Building transmission lines in Texas, in 1912, was one of those things that "couldn't be done." They were new. They were untried and unproven except in one or two thickly settled areas in the East. Texas communities were small and widely scattered. It would require huge sums of money to build transmission lines and big generating stations. The very best engineering counsel would be required because those first transmission lines would become the foundation of a system of lines reaching out to many cities, towns, villages and farms. It was a job that could be done only by pioneering Texans who could see the necessity of "preparing the way for others."

The Texans who organized the Texas Power & Light Company saw all of these handicaps. They were driven to overcome them because they could see how transmission line electric service would benefit all the people of Texas. They dared to do that which "could not be done." They built the first transmission lines in Texas.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION

Bringing electric service to the farm is being heralded today as one of the greatest social services that can be rendered. Twenty-two years ago this Company dedicated itself to rural electrification as a natural part of its service to an agricultural area.

The number of farms electrified by this Company during the past 10 years is more than 400% ahead of the national increase. This is sound evidence that this Company, as a properly managed, privately owned utility, is wide awake to the obligations imposed upon it by the nature of its business. It has been doing quietly, for many years, those things which best serve the people.

What is the result?

More than 300 Texas cities and towns are served by this Company's transmission lines today. Of that total number, 171 had no previous electric service. Industries have been established and are thriving in many of these places today. Opportunities are open for more industries in any of the communities having transmission line power service from the Texas Power & Light Company. More than 2,000 dirt farms have the same 24-hour electric service enjoyed by city people.

While these benefits have been accruing to the people because of TP&L transmission line service, its average cost to residential users has been lowered more than 35% during the past 10 years.

FIRST TEST SHOWS SENATE OPPOSED TO PREMISES DRINKING

BY VOTE 20 TO 8 BILL BANNING CONSUMPTION IN PUBLIC PLACES FAVORED

AUSTIN, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A bill to ban sale of liquor for consumption on the premises today won an initial test in the senate, 20 to 8. By that majority the senate set the bill for consideration Thursday.

Wet-bloc senators opposed advancement of the bill defining an open saloon to floor consideration prior to a sub-committee's completion of a licensed system bill permitting sale of mixed drinks.

Senator Clint Small of Amarillo, the author, obtained the favorable setting immediately after a report of the state affairs committee recommending it was filed. He contended it would clear a legislative path for immediate enactment of either a package sales or state monopoly law.

The bill defined an open saloon which the repeal amendment prohibited, as "any place where intoxicating liquor is sold, bartered or delivered to be consumed on the premises where sold or on premises accessible thereto, or any public place where intoxicating liquor is permitted to be consumed."

While Senator Small contended the constitutional amendment demanded such a definition, the wet bloc argued it would result in a continuation of conditions existing prior to repeal.

The house adjourned after a 55-minute session until tomorrow.

Sponsors of a chain store tax bill sought unsuccessfully to obtain immediate action but were blocked by a faction insisting that printed copies be furnished before debate started. The bill probably will come up tomorrow.

The house passed to the senate a bill to extend the time for counties to sell or pledge bonds and time warrants to the Public Works administration for loans and grants.

A resolution to raise salaries of Eleemosynary institution employes from three to ten per cent was sent to the appropriations committee.

First Bill to Raise Revenue for Pensions

AUSTIN, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Texas house of representatives today received from its revenue and taxation committee the first bill to raise revenue for old age pensions.

The committee last night voted 17 to 3 for a graduated tax on chain stores, estimated to yield approximately $1,500,000 annually. The proposed tax ranged from $1 on single stores to $750 each on stores in chains of 50 or more.

Wholesale chains would be included but public utilities, oil and gas well supply stores, gasoline filling stations and chain lumber yards would be exempt.

Sponsors said they would seek floor consideration as soon as possible.

Legislative committees continued to seek expression of public opinion preliminary to drafting legislation on two major subjects, old age pensions and liquor regulation.

The senate finance committee ordered public hearings starting tomorrow after it previously had voted for a sub-committee to write a composite bill. Authors of pension bills, which included a three per cent retail sales and a $2 annual elvy on persons from 25 to 60 years old, forced the reversal.

Pension Legislation.

Pension legislation advanced in the house as a sub-committee completed revision of differing proposals. It approved restrictions designed to reduce the number of eligible pensioners and a minor tax, to which the major revenue amendments could be attached.

The house liquor traffic committee decided to open its sessions for public discussion on three rival control plans after hearing the author of each explain provisions. Two bills proposed state monopolies and the other a license system.

A senate sub-committee worked to perfect a license system plan despite approval by the state affairs committee of a bill to prohibit sale of liquor for consumption on the premises.

The license system bills, identical in each house and drafted by the wet bloc, would permit sale of mixed drinks by hotels and restaurants.

NEW YORK BANK OFFICER DIES AFTER PLUNGE FROM 10TH FLOOR OF HOUSTON HOTEL LAST NIGHT

HOUSTON, Texas, Sept 24.—(AP)—James a MacIlvanie, 45, of Caldwell, N. J., an official of the Chase National Bank in New York City, plunged to his death from his tenth floor hotel room here last night.

Preparations were made to send the body to New York today.

Justice of the Peace J. M. Ray returned a verdict of suicide after investigators had found a note officers said was addressed to McInvanie's widow.

The banker died 15 minutes after he hurtled from the window, struck a parked automobile and then bounded to the pavement. Theatre-goers looked on in horror as McInvanie, twisting and screaming, fell.

A note addressed to "Dear Helen" scribbled on the last pages of a pocket diary was found in his room. It read:

"This is being written on a train to Houston. I love you, dear, and I am awful sorry you took me. What a curse to you I am, but maybe the boys somehow can be saved. Poor Lydie and darling Aunt Lizzie. I will probably not die, worse luck for you. It will be in all the papers. Oh, the boys, the boys. Our affair was so muddled and you will be so poor."

MacInvanie had left home last month on a protracted business trip. He had been here for a week conferring with cotton and oil men. He went to Galveston yesterday and returned last night. From her home in the East Mrs. MacInvanie said her husband had complained of ill health for some time.

Beside the widow, two sons, both students in Caldwell school, survive.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(AP)—James A. MacIlvaine, whose death in Houston, Texas, last night was reported as a suicide, was a second vice-president of the Chase National Bank. His trip to the cotton belt was in connection with his duties with the Chase foreign department.

Associates said MacIlvaine was known to have suffered greatly from severe headaches and insomnia during the past year. They were inclined to believe his ill health was the cause of his act. He was generally credited with having made a splendid record during his banking career.

He lived at 50 Crane street, Caldwell, N. J., with his wife, Helen, and two sons.

His banking career here began when he became a clerk of the Hanover National Bank in 1907. In 1910 he joined the Mechanics and Metal National Bank as assistant manager in the foreign department, in which capacity he continued after the merger of that bank with the Chase National Bank in 1926. He became a second vice-president of Chase at the beginning of this year.

He served with the American expeditionary forces in France as a second lieutenant, 306th infantry, and rose to a captaincy before his return to United States in 1919.

Think Legislature Should Set Salaries

AUSTIN, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A group of county officers thinks the legislature, not county commissioners, should fix salaries.

At the first hearing in the house on the bill setting remuneration for officers removed from a fee basis several officials voiced apprehension at the salary provisions.

"The bill as written would create political hotbeds all over Texas," L. Emet Walker, county clerk of Coleman county, said, "and commissioners probably would become political bosses."

Sheriff J. B. Arnold of Bee county, representing the State Sheriff's Association, also urged the legislature to fix the salaries.

J. W. Hall, tax assessor and collector of Harris county, with others advocated basing remuneration on property valuation instead of population.

Gaynor Kendall, former assistant attorney general, who explained the bill, said the population yard-stick had been taken because it was the present basis.

VICTIM AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT BE BURIED CORSICANA THURSDAY

Funeral services for Manuel Albarron, aged 30, of Rice, employee of the Southern Pacific Lines, who died in the company hospital in Houston Wednesday afternoon at 3:35 o'clock from injuries sustained in an automobile accident Sunday night, will be held at the Catholic cemetery here Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock where interment will be made. Monsignor V. Graffeo of the Church of the Immaculate Conception wil conduct the rites.

Albarron received severe injuries when his automobile figured in an accident on Highway 75, three miles south of Rice Sunday night about 10 o'clock. His sister, Mrs. Antone Cruz, also of Rice, sustained a broken finger and an injured leg in the accident. Another automobile was involved in the crash. Albarron was rushed to the Houston hospital.

The body arrived in Corsicana at an early hour over the Southern Pacific Lines train.

Surviving are his widow, sister, and other relatives.

The funeral will be directed by the Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home.

SEEKING INCLUSION PUBLIC UTILITIES SELLING APPLIANCES

CHAIN STORE TAX BILL DEBATE STARTED IN HOUSE; UTILITY LOBBY DENOUNCED

AUSTIN, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Debate started in the House of Representatives today on a chain store tax bill, and a fight was launched to include public utilities selling appliances.

Sponsors expressed fear inclusion of utilities would void the proposed law because utilities now pay a gross receipts tax, a form of occupation tax, and a new levy might be considered double taxation.

Rep. William A. Shofner of Temple denounced utility merchandising as "the biggest chain of all," asserting it fast was gaining a monopoly and if excluded the bill "won't be worth a hoot." He charged utilities subsidized the country press, through advertisements that were paid ultimately by the consumers.

"The utility lobby showed itself larger than the United States congress by taking the teeth out of recent holding company legislation," he said.

The house sent the governor a senate bill appropriating $200,000 to supplement $700,000 in federal funds for a supreme courts memorial building. Governor Allred supported the bill.

Action on the chain store tax was delayed by adjournment until tomorrow.

AUSTIN, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Three plans to control liquor sales were before the house today while senate wet and dry blocks prepared for a finish fight on a bill to prohibit sales by the drink.

The house liquor traffic committee yesterday declined to accept responsibility of recommending a liquor control bill and sent all proposals to the floor. They included a state monopoly over all outlets, a monopoly over wholesale sales and a private license system with sales in broken packages in bona fide restaurants and hotels.

Leaders of both monopoly and private license groups admittedly were apprehensive of the outcome had a vote been forced in committee on the monopoly and license bills.

"You have seen two boys squaring off to fight when neither wants to very bad," Representative R. Emmett Morse of Houston, license advocate, said. "That's the way we were in the committee."

Representative George Moffett of Chillicothe, monopoly leader, expressed satisfaction with the situation and both said it was the quickest method to obtain a vote. The first of the bills may be brought up tomorrow or Friday.

Senate repeal leaders were frankly disturbed over the threat in a bill set for special order tomorrow to define a saloon as any place where liquor is sold for consumption on or near the premises. Sponsors said it would open the way for a clear cut decision on whether the state would monopolize package sales or license private dealers.

Maverick Talks to Senate of Texas

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Congressman Maury Maverick of San Antonio, addressing the senate today, rapped democrats who took an "apologetic" position for their party.

"Our duty is to take a militant stand for the party," he said. "We're changing into a new era and we as democrats should stand behind our party."

Maverick charged "republican talk about the constitution is absolutely insincere," and asserted "There is nothing mysterious about changing our fundamental law."

Defending President Roosevelt, Maverick said:

"He isn't perfect, but he is the best president the south has had since the administration of Andrew Jackson."

He predicted President Roosevelt would carry Texas "as well as other states," and that southern states "are all right."

Senator John S. Redditt of Lufkin introduced a bill appropriating $103,402 to supplement salaries of eleemosynary institution employes. He said salary raises were necessary to keep medical staffs intact.

The house adopted a resolution appointing a committee to investigate reports farmers hauling produce to market were harassed by state and local police.

Representative Jap Lucas of Athens said reports were farmers were being arrested because they did not have permits from the railroad commission while Rep. Herman Jones of Decatur said the situation in his district was "desperate."

Jones said officers contended the trucks were classed as carriers for hire and must have permits but farmers were unable to obtain them.

Representative Conde Hoskins of Gonzales said 78 complaints were pending in one justice of the peace court in his district.

The resolution instructed the committee to report in two weeks.

AUSTIN, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Governor Allred commended the legislature today for the "good progress" on legislation he submitted.

Principal subjects submitted were liquor regulation, old-age pensions, salaries for county officers removed from the fee basis of remuneration and revenue and taxation.

"The legislature is moving right along," Governor Allred said. "It has made progress on all the important subjects."

WOMEN REMAINED BARRED FROM HOLDING HIGH STATE OFFICES IN OKLAHOMA AFTER ELECTION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 25—(AP)—At the door of high office in Oklahoma, the forbidding sign that says "For Men Only" still hung high today on the basis of incomplete and unofficial returns from yesterday's special election.

Thus Oklahoma retained its unique position as the only state in which no woman can be governor nor occupy any of the next seven most important elective offices in the state house.

In the balloting that brought women their second official setback in five years, the returns showed strong majorities for constitutional amendments to provide pensions for the aged and to clear the way for the legislation to exempt homesteads from ad valorem taxation.

Of the total of 3,875 precincts, unofficial figures from 1,930 showed 116,106 for the initiated proposal to lift the tax burden from homes, 53,400 against, and 104,198 for the initiated old age pension amendment 59,199 against.

Apparently defeated were all of the four constitutional amendments referred by the last legislature. These called for tax exemption of homesteads on a more limited basis; for less liberal pensions to the aged; the "women's rights" question, and re-organization of the state land office.

The women's leaders, apparently a bit stunned by the upset of an election where most observers expected an easy feminine victory, accepted the defeat as a new challenge.

"We're starting another campaign tomorrow," said Miss Jessye Arnett of Oklahoma City, vice president of the State Business and Professional Women's clubs.

DRY FORCES OF TEXAS ORGANIZE PERMANENTLY

WACO. Sept. 25.—(AP)—United Texas drys organized permanently today by electing officers and adopting a constitution and by-laws.

Bishop H. A. Boaz of Fort Worth, Methodist churchman, was elected chairman.

George W. Truett, Dallas; E. B. Germany, Highland Park; Dr. J. H. Burma, Sherman; Pat Neff, Waco; Luther Johnson, Corsicana; T. S. Robertson, San Benito; Dr. P. W. Riley, Fort Worth; Nehemiah Wiggins, Dallas; and W. H. Coleman, El Paso, were selected as vice-presidents. A board of directors, with 75 members was named.

The convention adjourned after an executive committee meeting.

A provision would be used to "endow" temperance education among youth of the state."

A resolution adopted deplored repeal of the 18th amendment and state prohibitory liquor laws as "backward steps."

ACCOUNTS NAVARRO COUNTY OFFICIAL IN GOOD CONDITION

TAX ASSESSOR - COLLECTOR HARRIS AND DEPUTY FARMER COMPLIMENTED

State auditors Thursday completed their audit of the accounts of R. L. Harris, county assessor-collector of taxes, for the past two years, and reported that the books and accounts are in excellent condition

J. H. Powell, state tax supervisor, comptroller's department, Austin, in charge of the work, stated that the State of Texas owes Harris $22.02 on refunds of exemption redemption certificates.

The audit was in two periods—from July 1, 1933 to June 30, 1934, and the second from July 1, 1934 to July 1, 1935. The first period showed an error of three cents balancing on current rolls and balanced to the penny on the second period, Powell reported.

"Navarro county has as good a record as any county in Texas," Powell declared, and complimented Tom Farmer, chief deputy, as a capable tax man. He also was complimentary to Harris and the other members of the assessor-collector's force.

Powell was assisted in the audit under way the past two weeks by F. H. Ligarde of the comptroller's department.

RAINFALL TO DATE IS ALMOST AVERAGE FOR ENTIRE YEAR

WITH THREE MONTHS REMAINING 35.64 INCHES HAVE FALLEN; AVERAGE 36.43

Rainfall in Navarro county this year has almost equalled the average yearly fall. A check of the records shows that 35.64 inches have been recorded to date and that the annual rainfall is 36.43.

The rainfall for the 24 hour period ending at 7 o'clock Thursday morning was 1.23 inches bringing the total for the past 48 hours to 1.44 inches and the total for September to 6.33 inches.

May tops the list to date for heavy rainfall this year with 9.15 inches with September second with 6.33. April is third with 4.32 inches and June is fourth with 3.87. The records for the other months are January 2.89 inches; February 3.37 inches; March 1.44 inches; July 1.74 inches and August 2.53 inches.

The rain fell slowly and steadily throughout the day Wednesday and Wednesday night with no wind or electrical disturbances. Showers started falling Tuesday afternoon and by Wednesday morning had increased to an almost steady downpour.

Falling slowly the rain did a minimum amount of damage to open cotton. Fall gardens and other crops were benefited and land was put in excellent condition for plowing where crops have been gathered. Pastures will be kept growing by the rain.

None of the major streams of the county are expected to rise on account of the rain.

Crackers Within Single Game Cup Southern Circuit

ATLANTA, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Atlanta Crackers were within one game of undisputed possession of the Southern Association baseball championship today.

Defeating New Orleans 7 to 3 last night for the second time in the final series of the Shaughnessy playoff, the Crackers needed only one more victory to clinch the title while the Pels faced the task of taking three straight to win the four-game contest. Atlanta won the opener 4 to 1.

The teams moved to New Orleans today and the series will be resumed there tomorrow. The winner of the Southern pennant will meet Oklahoma City of the Texas league in the annual Dixie series.

ONE ACTIVE DOLLAR IN A COMMUNITY IS EQUAL TO TEN DOLLARS EVERY THIRTY DAYS.

From financial statistics and check up it has been found that every "active dollar" in a community changes hands ten times every thirty days. This means that during this time one "active dollar" at home does the work of ten dollars.

The same value of a dollar will apply for every thirty days thereafter so long as the dollar is kept moving.

If the "active dollar" is kept in the local community there is just ten times more money to be spent every thirty days in that community.

What applies to one "active dollar" will apply to all active dollars in the Corsicana trading area.

WHITE OF EGG.

FACE MASKS

Miss Forbes tells you how to make yourself a face mask with the white of an egg, which will pull up lax muscles and make your skin fine grained.

E. K. Forbes

You can make yourself a very good face mask with the white of an egg and a little water. It is really very much like a certain mask I once bought, experimentally, in a beauty shpo, for $4.50. In the very simplest form, this mask is just the white of an egg, and as much water added as the empty egg-shell holds. You mix up these two with an egg-beater, without trying to make the egg white frothy. And you begin work.

You cleanse the skin, either with cream, oil, or soap and water. Once it is quite clean, you spread on a thick film of the egg mixture. You lie down and give it 20 minutes to dry. It dries, it hardens, it draws up the muscles, it makes your face feel as though it were tightening up in a vise.

You must lie down, because this relaxes the muscles, and it does you twice as much good as though you went about with a strained expression trying to work while you took a beauty treatment. After 20 minutes, during which time you can read, of course, you wash off the egg with warm water and then you rub your skin with cold cream or almond oil. The skin is fresh and smooth and the lines on the face are fainter. And if very sensible doctors tell you there is nothing in face masks, tell them they are quite right as regards most face masks, but as regards white of egg, they are wrong. It really does make the face look better, for the time. Which is all we ask of most beauty treatments.

To make this more effective, mix with the egg white one-half the egg-shell full of water. Fill the other half with vinegar. Add to this a tiny pinch of powdered borax. This gives a slightly bleaching, softening mixture, even more astringent than the plain egg white. If you want, make up this mixture and keep in a bottle. One woman likes it better when she adds a quarter teaspoonful of olive oil. She takes two egg whites and makes enough mask to last her for several weeks, using it once every week.

F. J.—You will be taking chnaces on your health if you take drugs to bring about a reduction in your weight. You will be able to control this tendency to overweight if you teach yourself to eat properly. As you are about 50 pounds too heavy, the best thing to do is to have a doctor make a thorough investigation for you, so you will be intelligently informed about your condition. Glandular treatment may be suggested, and the need for that may be the cause for this extra weight. Aside from that, you should lessen the amount of starch, sugar, and fats in your diet, watching the effect this change will make in the number of pounds. Often girls at college eat a great deal between meals, especially sweets, and perhaps that is your experience. If that is so, you will lose much of the extra weight after you have taken up some active occupation, but do whatever you can at present, and begin by having the doctor care for you.

F. B.—As you have a perfect formula for making a cream with sweet almond oil, you may easily substitute lanoline for the oil and have as fine an emulsion as you had with the oil cream. Another suggestion is to make the oil content half oil and half lanoline, always keeping the amounts called for by the formula.

Mrs. G. C. J.—The above information may supply the information you need. If not, please forward a stamped, self-addressed envelope and have a formula mailed to you.

Tomorrow—Best Care Of The Nails.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady 1 higher to 1 lower with steadier Liverpool cables off sets by southern selling. Oct. 10.52; Dec. 10.56; Jan. 10.58; March 10.66; May 10.72; July 10.77.

Demand was limited and attributed chiefly to the trade on scaledown orders. Considerable cotton appeared to be wanted around 10.55 for Dec at the start, but the price later sagged to 10.53 with the general list showing net losses of about 1 to 2 points at the end of the first hour.

Liverpool cables reported a quiet market with light hedging and realizing taken by trade calling and buying on the unfavorable weather reports from the south.

Trading continued comparatively quiet later in the morning but there appeared to be sufficient trade buying to absorb the scattered offerings and prices held fairly steady after the early dip of 3 or 4 points. At mid-day Dec. was selling around 10.54 and May 10.70 or within a point or two of yesterday's closing quotations. A report reaching the trade from New Orleans said that a small amount of cotton is being certified at Mobile presumably for delivery on contracts.

Futures closed barely steady, 3-5 lower. Spot quiet; middling 10.85.

New Orleans Cotton Declines.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—(AP.)—Hedge pressure on all active months brought declines ranging from 4 to 6 points in the early trading in cotton here today.

At the opening call all options with the exception of Oct. were 2 or 3 points lower. But during the first trading hour little buying appeared and the market sold off point by point.

At the end of the first hour Dec. was selling at 10.48, March at 10.57, and May at 10.62. Oct was holding one point above its previous close at 10:40.

There were no notices issued here for the Oct. Option today.

Scattered hedging and scattered liquidation continued during the morning as prices held a few points below previous closing levels.

Further rains in Texas, considered detrimental at this time, brought some speculative buying into the market and managed to keep the undertone steady. Oct. beat its early gain and dropped to 10.45, while Dec. at 10.50, March at 10.59 and May at 10.71 showed minor recessions.

Further Testimony Due in Oil Suit

TYLER, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Further testimony was in order today in the hearing of a federal court suit which attacked validity of the state oil tender board.

The suit, hearing on which opened yesterday, was brought by the Ocean Petroleum Company and John Kraker against the Texas Railroad Commission and the tender board.

The Ocean company contended that a state tender was refused on 21,400 barrels of oil Aug. 6 allegedly at the request of the State Petroleum Council. The Kraker Pipeline Company alleged that a tender for 8,323 barrels of oil was refused.

Right of the tender board to answer questions asked by any one attending hearings also was questioned in the suit.

Four of five members of the board were present. They were: Tucker Royall of Palestine, chairman; W. L. Cain, Jr., of Tyler, Gus Blankenship of Jacksonville and H. V. Hamilton of Palestine.

Harry Miles, chief enforcement officer of the Railroad Commission in the East Texas field, absent on vacation, was represented by Jim Saye, Longview attorney.

A lengthy deposition purporting to answer almost all of the allegations of the Ocean Company was read.

Corn Jumps Two Cents.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Approximately 2 cents a bushel sudden jump in corn prices late today resulted from official forecasts of frost tonight in seven states.

Particular anxiety to double danger of serious damage to the nation's corn crop was aroused. The fact was stressed that much of the corn crop is later than usual and that a killing frost now would be a good deal earlier than ordinary.

Corn closed strong, 7-8 to 1 7-8 above yesterday's finish. Dec. 59 5-8 3-4, wheat 5-8 off to 1-4 up, Dec. 98 1-8 1-4, and oats unchanged to 1-8 lower, with provisions at 17 to 32 cents setback reflecting declines of hog prices.

DALLAS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Mrs. J. E. White, 38, plunged to her death from a seventh-floor window of the Medical Arts Building here today.

Justice of the Peace E. John Baldwin held the woman committed suicide. Her home was in Dallas.

Mrs. White, who was said to have been in ill health, had gone to the office of Dr. L. S. Thompson, accompanied by another woman. Shirtly after she arrived at the office, police were told, she went to a rest room. Police found her purse on a window sill of this room.

Her husband, J. E. White, is an employe of the Shell Oil company at Houston, police learned.

THOUSANDS OF MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN ARE PICKING COTTON

MANY TAKEN FROM RELIEF ROLLS AS FIELDS INVADED IN EVERY PART OF TEXAS

DALLAS, Sept. 25.—(AP)—They are picking cotton in Texas.

Thousands of men, women and children, many of them from relief rolls, are going down the rows—bending to it or jogging along on their knees—for 40 to 75 cents a hundred pounds.

From Corpus Christi on the coast to the Panhandle and from San Angelo in the southwest to Texarkana on the northeast, the pickers are sacking King Cotton—and there are plenty of pickers who are willing to labor in the field for 50 cents to $2 or $3 a day.

Cotton picking, like pretzel making, so far has remained a job that has to be done by hand and it is described as about the hardest one on southern farms. It is not a good paying job at present prices for labor in the fields, since it takes a better than average picker to sack 300 pounds between suns. There are more 150 to 200-pound pickers, on the daily basis, than there are 300-pound pickers.

Have Plenty Pickers.

Despite the hard work and the low wages, there seem to be more than enough pickers to harvest the big crop Texas makes even when production is off a little. C. W. Woodman, United States farm placement service supervisor, said at Fort Worth that pickers were moving into north and west Texas so rapidly a surplus was threatened.

"We already have turned back more than 1,000 pickers who came from Oklahoma," he said.

Increased Production.

Many sections of the state reported an increase in production over last year, while other sectors saw prospects of a decrease. Wet weather hurt many sections and leaf worms hit a big part of the state's cotton belt.

Picking has been practically completed in the Rio Grande valley and in much of South Texas. Bulk of the crop has been picked in the Corpus Christi region on the coast, while first bales are still news at Plainview on the divide between the plains and the Panhandle.

Picking was slow in the Austin sector. Bolls were reported rotting and leaf worms, weevils and fleas increasing.

Many Pick Own Crop.

There are plenty of pickers at Tyler, where the crop was reported in generally good condition. Farmers were reported picking their own cotton near Tyler, as is the case in Navarro county. Prairie cotton in Navarro county was reported opening rapidly.

Longview reported a poor crop with plenty of pickers. Denton likewise has a short crop. Few relief families found employment in the fields around Denton.

Paris and Sherman reported plenty of pickers for short crops.

From Wichita Falls across the plains to Lubbock and back to the southeast to Abilene and southwest to San Angelo cotton picking was reported just getting under way. The crop was reported generally on par with last year in the western sections of the state, but no great demand for pickers was reported.

France Permitted Use White Troops For Protection

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie granted permission to France today to station 180 French white troops at Deridawa to safeguard the railroad from Addis Ababa to Djbouti, French Somaliland, and to assist in preservation of order.

French authorities also were given the right to bring some of these troops to Addis Ababa in the event of danger.

The King of Kings at first expressed an inclination to deny the French request, because he had refused a similar right to the Italians, but he yielded to French insistence.

Government officials expressed fear that the action might embitter the Italians. They argued, however, that Italy, if it were in the position of a belligerent, would not need such protection in any event which compelled complete Italian evacuation.

France will be the first country to bring white troops to Ethiopia.

MEMPHIS CHIEF OF POLICE REFUSES TO LOOK AFTER CONVICT

GOVERNOR ALLRED PAROLED PRISONER TO OFFICER WITHOUT CONSULTATION

AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The governor of Texas and the chief of police at Memphis, Tenn., were at loggersheads today over whether a paroled Texas convict should live in Memphis.

Gov. James V. Allred recently paroled Carl Mack Thompson, serving ten years for robbery, to Chief Will D. Lee without the latter's knowledge. The governor said he had paroled many convicts on good behavior to police chiefs without protest.

Back came the proclamation with a letter from Chief Lee saying "we have our own criminals to deal with and do not take kindly to having them imported from other states into Tennessee." Lee said the governor was "unfair" and Thompson would be arrested as a vagrant if he showed up at headquarters.

In a 750-word reply, objecting to being lectured, Governor Allred explained that Thompson's mother, wife and child lived in Memphis and he had expressed desire to return to them. Thompson's parole was recommended by the man who prosecuted him and the persons robbed, the governor said.

"This attitude on the part of a few police officers throughout the country is responsible for one of society's greatest problems, that of rehabilitation of convicted men," he said.

Governor Allred concluded that he had prevailed on the Salvation Army of Memphis to "undertake this responsibility" and had warned Thompson of Chief Lee's intentions if he went to police headquarters.

FEDERAL JUDGE AT TYLER IS HEARING OIL CASE EVIDENCE

SAYS IF APPLICATIONS FOR RELIEF HABITUAL VIOLATORS THEY WILL NOT GET IT

TYLER, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Judge Randolph Bryant today granted permission to introduce evidence regarding the legality of oil in question in both the Ocean Petroleum and the Kraco Pipeline cases against the state railroad commission and tender board.

"If it is shown that these companies are habitual violators of regulations of the railroad commission, they won's get any injunction in this court," the federal district judge said.

Tucker Royall, member of the tender board, was on the stand at noon recess. He said:

"We were suspicious of affiliations between the Lake Refining company and the Kraco company."

"John Kracker is secretary-treasurer of the Kraco Pipeline company but he claims his wife owns most of the stock," Royall said when asked if he had information about the Kraco case. "He is a director and manager of the Lake company. We had reason to believe he was running oil to the Lake company and we refused to answer in regard to the Lake but did report on the Kraco company."

Van Hamilton of Palestine, tender board member, testified that when the Ocean Petroleum company applied for a tender "we found the owner was claiming a larger amount of recovery than our refinery man said was possible."

He said he offered to send a railroad commission man for an inspection, but A. S. Robertson, manager, did not consent immediately.

Later, W. J. Christian, assistant proration chief, read into the records, Robertson agreed to an inspection.

"I granted a tender, writing into it the condition upon which it was agreed to," Hamilton said.

On cross-examination Hamilton said the sole purpose of the commission in wishing to inspect was to determine the type of refinery and recovery of refined products. W. T. Sayre, attorney for the Ocean company, asked why it was necessary for this information to be made public.

Hamilton explained that it was a rule of the board to have public hearings. The amount of recovery from the Ocean company was deemed excessive, he added.

J. A. Boyce, refinery inspector-engineer for the commission, justfied he wasn't given a chance to inspect the Ocean plant. Joyce said Robertson wouldn't give permission or refuse but intimated that if Joyce went on the premises he would consider it entrance by force.

Cotton Picking In County Stopped By Rain Past 24 Hours

Cotton picking in Navarro county was halted Tuesday afternoon when showers started falling. The showers continued at intervals through the night and Wednesday morning a slow but steady rain fell over the county. The rain was not heavy enough to do any extensive damage to open cotton, but the grade will be lowered if picking starts too soon.

The rainfall in Corsicana Tuesday afternoon and night amounted to .21 of an inch.

USE FEDERAL FUNDS DALLAS EXPOSITION OUTLINED THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The United States-Texas Centennial commission announced today the allocation of $1,200,000 for the Dallas expositon would be used to construct two buildings, one to house federal exhibits and the other for negro exhbits.

William B. Yeager, representing the governmental agency, said the federal exhibits building would cost about $325,000 and about $50,000 would be spent for the negro structure.

"The federal exhibits building will contain an exhibit prepared by the United States government in co-operation in certain connected instances with private agencies," the commission announcement said. "The policy with regard to this exhibit is in the process of formulation and an additional announcement on this subject will be made later. The negro exhibits building will house a representative and distinctive negro exhibit national in character."

Yeager said that the rest of the $1,200,000 would be used almost entirely for assembling and maintaining the exhibits in these buildings. He said the commission, composed of Vice-President Garner, and Secretaries Hull, Wallace and Roper had not decided yet on the exact type of exhibit for either buildings.

The commission statement said allocations of funds for the Dallas Central Exposition were approved Monday and a letter containing the endorsement went today to Cullen Thomas of Dallas, commissioner general of the 1936 celebrations.

The secretaries met Monday without the vice-president but his views were obtained by telephone.

White and Negro Youths Fight At School in Ohio

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Police rushed squads to the Oyler Junior high school today as white youths and negro students fought, some of them said, over the result of the Joe Louis-Max Baer fight.

No arrests were made. John Downer, principal of the school, asserted "as far as I know, the children of the school were not responsible for the trouble. Classes are proceeding as usual."

But, he added, however, that he had signed permits to allow parents of 35 white children to keep their children home for the day, and police struggling to disperse the throng on the viaduct advised the 100 negro students of the school to return home and remain away from school until next Monday.

WITHDRAWAL SOVIET RECOGNITION DEMAND ST. LOUIS SESSION

LEGIONNAIRES URGE CENTRALIZING NATIONAL DEFENSE METHODS

By HOWARD W. FLIEGER
Associated Press Staff Writer.

MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM, St. Louis, Sept. 25.—(AP)—The American Legion today asked the United States to withdraw its recognition of Soviet Russia.

Delegates cheered as J. J. Twomey of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee on Americanism trade, offered the resolution.

After commending legislation for national defense passed by the last congress, the convention adopted a report calling for a concentration of national defense methods.

The resolution urged a standing army of 165,000 enlisted men with 14,000 officers augmented by 210,000 National Guardsmen, and continuation of officers' training camps, the C. M. T. C. and R. O. T. C. in schools.

A treaty navy on a parity with any navy in the world manned by 92,000 enlisted men and 15,000 officers, and new naval training ships also was recommend.

The veterans then went on record opposing the consolidation of army, navy and marine flying corps, and asked increased provisions for coast defense. They commended the program of civilian air reserves training corps.

The Soviet resolution, one of 21 submitted and approved, charged the Soviet government with continuing "inimical and subversive agitation" which it had promised would cease upon its recognition by this country.

Active opposition to "Nazi-ism, fascism, communism and other isms contrary to the principles enunciated in the constitution" was voted in another resolution.

As a matter to be considered in its legislative program, the Legionnaires voted demands for closing of all immigration for ten years, deportation of undesirables and destitute aliens, and fingerprinting of all persons.

Veterans Planned to Get Down to Business

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Conventioning American Legionnaires, already hoarse from two days of yelling for the fun of it, prepared to get serious and shout for their bonus checks today.

Behind the prosiac listing on the convention calendar, "report of the committee on legislation," was a stack of 45 resolutions, each submitted by a separate state department and each urging immediate cash payment of the adjusted compensation certificates, with no riders.

Indications were that the committee would come onto the floor of the convention with a resolution almost identical to the one voted at Miami last year. That resolution asked payment of the bonus but avoided any reference to a method of financing it.

It appeared almost certain a resolution opposing communism would reach the delegates, with a possibility the convention would ask the withdrawal of United States recognition of the Soviet Russia.

The veterans of the last war may submit a legislative program that would saddle the cost of future wars on stay-at-homes. A pet issue of National Commander Frank N. Belgrano, Jr., providing for the conscription of private capital and resources on a parity with man-power in time of war, was in committee.

The greater part of the session was to be devoted to internal problems and policies of the legion. More than half of the 788 submitted resolutions dealt with veterans' rehabilitation, care of dependents, hospitalization and kindred subjects.

Cleveland Gets 1936 Meeting.

CONVENTION HALL, ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Cleveland today was awarded the 1936 national convention of the American Legion.

The decision was made on the floor of the 1936 meeting after two hours of wrangling during which four ballots were taken. The vote was unanimous.

Cleveland, Atlantic City, Denver and Los Angeles were active competitors. Denver withdrew its bid after the third ballot when no city had obtained the necessary majority.

Will Rogers Coming to Palace

For the new Will Rogers' picture, "Steamboat Round the Bend," which comes Saturday night for a midnight show at the Palace theatre and runs through Wednesday, Fox Film has again brought together the star, authors, producers and directors of the Rogers' hit, "Judge Priest," to produce another rousing story of the southland.

"Steamboat Round the Bend," adapted from Ben Lucien Burman's novel, is a drama-filled, down to earth story of life along the Mississippi in the roaring 1880's, the most colorful period in the great river's history.

Produced by Sol M. Wurtzel and director by John Ford from a screen story by Dudley Nichols and Lamar Trotti, the picture is the story of a couple of steamboating rivals, Will Rogers and Irvin Cobb, their hilarious rivalry and their great life-and-death race which brings the story to its spectacular climax.

Most of the humor and drama of "Steamboat Round the Bend" arises from Will Rogers' efforts to set right the lives of a pair of youngsters who are in love.

The lovers are played by Anne Shirley and John McGuire.

MEMBERS REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO LAY PLANS FOR 1936 CAMPAIGN AT CONFERENCE

By NATHAN ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Republican party chieftains, gathered here today to discuss finances for the 1936 presidential campaign, reported "a decided trend in our favor" in popular sentiment.

Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican national committee told newspapermen after the morning session of the executive committee, that means of raising funds for the campaign had been discussed but no decisions made either on finances or strategy.

Asked what reports committee members had brought of popular sentiment in their areas, Fletcher said there had been little discussion of that, but added:

"As far as we have gone everyone had noticed a decided trend in our favor in every state we have discussed."

Fletcher said he was already pledged to open a Western headquarters in conjunction with the "grass roots" conference "as soon as practicable" but that no definite arrangement was made at today's morning session.

"We did not discuss candidates and we will not, nor did we discuss platforms," Fletcher said.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Fresh from watching the Baer-Louis fight, members of the Republican national executive committee met today to prepare for battling the Democrats in the 1936 presidential campaign.

The meeting actually marked the beginning of the Republican campaign to defeat President Roosevelt. It was the first session the committee has held since before the 1934 off-year elections.

One spokesman for the Republicans said the committee call evidenced the revival of Republican hopes for next year's election, that it would not have been held if the pessimism of a few months ago had prevailed.

Without power to discuss candidacies or policies, the committee was called to talk finances and campaign strategy. The committee's last report showed $40,000 in the treasury, hardly more than necessary to carry on normal activities. George F. Getz of Illinois, national treasurer, was expected to discuss plans for augmenting this fund.

It would be necessary, if the plan to be advanced by Harrison E. Spangler of Iowa, one of the leaders of the "grass roots" conference, should be adopted. Spangler wants to open up a party office in Chicago and begin the campaign in the West immediately.

Political observers wondered whether the meeting would be marked by attempts to bring the liberal and conservative elements of the party closer together. Though such activity would not be within the committee's jurisdiction, onlookers figured the meeting of members representing various factions of the party might provide the opportunity for informal negotiations.

ROOSEVELT SEEKS UNBIASED OPINIONS FROM CLERGYMEN

WRITES BALTIMORE MINISTERS FOR THEIR VIEWS ON ECONOMIC CONDITONS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(AP)—A nation-wide appeal to clergymen for "counsel and advice" on how "our government can better serve the people" has been launched by President Roosevelt.

At his press conference today the President briefly discused the letter sent to clergymen in various parts of the country and said he was trying to find out from non-government officials what conditions are.

He did not say so, but the impression many drew from the tone of the letter and from his remarks tion from clergymen was less likewas that he considered the receely to be biased than information coming from government representatives in the field.

Asked if he intended to interview other professional groups, the President replied that he had no such plans at present. He emphasized that he was particularly concerned about conditions surrounding the Social Security and Works Progress programs.

"Because of the grave responsibilities of my office, I am turning to representative clergymen for counsel and advice, feeling confident that no group can give more accurate or unbiased news," the letter said.

Expressing particular hope that the new social security law and the works program shall be carried out effectively, the letter adds that the President will "deem it a favor if you will write me about conditions in your community."

It also explains that Mr. Roosevelt shortly will start a few weeks vacation—probably tomorrow—but hopes the replies will be sent in.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Requests for "accurate and unbiased views" on economic conditions were contained today in letters received by Baltimore clergymen from President Roosevelt.

The president wrote that he was turning to the clergymen for counsel and advice, "feeling confident that no group can give more accurate or unbiased views."

"Tell me where you feel our government can better serve our people," the letters asked.

In a letter received by the Rev. S. Tagart Steele, D. D., Protestant Episcopal minister, the president wrote:

"I am particularly anxious that the new social security legislation x x x shall be carried out in keeping with the high purposes with which this law was enacted. It is also vitally important the works progress administration be administered to provide employment at useful work, and that our unemployed as well as the nation as a whole may derive the greatest possible benefits.

"We can solve our many problems, but no one man or single group can do it—we shall have to work together for the common end of better spiritual and material conditions for the common end of better spiritual and material conditions for the American people."

FIVE ROYAL LIONS ESCAPED CAGES IN ETHIOPIAN CAPITAL

ONE SENTRY KILLED, FIVE WOUNDED AS RESULT OF NIGHT EPISODE

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Five of Emperor Haile Selassie's big lions escaped today, killed one sentry, and injured five more, two gravely.

In their rush for freedom they devoured several of the emperor's pedigreed Australian sheep and killed two horses.

Colonel Mekouria, the commander of the imperial guard, seized a machine gun and shot all five beasts in succession.

After Mekouria had willed the lions, one of the beasts was found astride a dead sentry.

During the night, the lion keeper apparently had allowed the cage door to remain open, permitting the animal to escape from the communicating cages.

Soon the entire neighboorhood of the emperor's old palace, where the cages are located, was thrown into an uproar. The lion hunt ensued in the darkness.

One of the escaped beasts approached a palace sentry who, thinking it was merely a large dog, struck it with a stick. The lion sprang and killed the man with a single thrust of his paw to the stomach.

The roars of the liberated animals awakened soldiers who, with torchlights and flares, began the wild hunt.

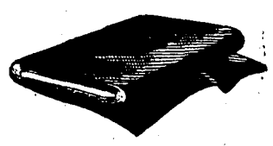

In the confusion, one soldier who was trying to creep up near a lion was shot by a comrade who mistook him in the shadows.

A sentry bayoneted one lion, wounding the animal in the shoulder.

Then the colonel appeared and "mopped up" the lions with the machine gun. The emperor decorated him for bravery and pensioned the family of the slain sentry.
